

In this play's first interlude the elderly money-lender Punchinello has to bribe a group of archers to not arrest him for serenading a woman, while earlier in the first act [the protagonist]_1 chases a servant with a stick for criticizing [his]_1 decision to betroth [his]_1 daughter to Thomas Diafoirus. In this play's third act the diagnosis of Fleurant and Mr.Purgonis contradicted by the maid Toinette while she is disguised pretending to be a famous doctor. [The title character]_1 of this play discovers the insincerity of [his]_1 wife Beline when [his] brother Beralde convinces [him]_1 to play dead and [he]_1 ultimately allows [his]_1 daughter Angelique to marry Cleante. For 10 points, name this Moliere play about [Argan]_1 who is constantly concerned with [his]_1 health.