

Question #32

This writer depicted a group of samurai battle against an imperial army with aid from the One Who Destroys in his novel, The Game of Contemporaneity. Another of his novels is narrated by a liver cancer patient who recounts Happy Days in the work entitled The Day He Himself Shall Wipe My Tears Way. This writer depicted Harelip's encounter with an African-American POW in The Catch. The protagonist of another of his works is a teacher named Bird, whose son is born with a brain hernia while another of his works follows brothers Matsu and Takashi. For 10 points, name this Japanese writer of A Personal Matter and The Silent Cry.

Undo [ctrl+z]

Previous [p]

Next [n]

Answer [a]

Coreference Group Hotkeys

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

Q

W

E

R

T

Y

U

I

O

 - Use 1 when coreference relates to answer

Current Coreferences

Clear All

GROUP 1

[X] Japanese writer of A Personal Matter and The Silent Cry

[X] This writer

[X] his

[X] his

[X] This writer

[X] his

GROUP 2

[X] his novel

[X] The Game of Contemporaneity

GROUP 3

[X] Another of his novels

[X] The Day He Himself Shall Wipe My Tears Way

[X] the work

GROUP 4